RMIT - ROYAL MELBOURNE UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY UNIVERSITY

Address : 124 La Trobe Street,

Company Description:

RMIT is a global university of technology, design and enterprise

RMIT is a world leader in Art and Design; Architecture; Education; Engineering; Development; Computer Science and Information Systems; Business and Management; and Communication and Media Studies. RMIT was established in 1887 as the Working Men's College with the aim of bringing education to the working people of Melbourne. Our teaching, learning and research programs are continually updated so that students, staff and graduates are equipped to meet the challenges of the 21st century. At the same time, we have not forgotten our past as one of Australia's original educational institutions, and we have remained true to our original philosophy. Since 1887, our inner-city campus has been a vital part of the City of Melbourne, from the 1880s boom through world wars, the Great Depression and renewed prosperity during the second half of the 20th century. RMIT was awarded royal patronage by Queen Elizabeth II for its educational service to the Commonwealth and contribution to the war effort, and RMIT remains the only higher education institution in Australia with the right to use the prefix "Royal" and the Monarchy's coat of arms. During the 1990s, the institution gained university status and developed campuses in Bundoora and Brunswick in the city's northern suburbs, and later in Ho Chi Minh City and Hanoi in Vietnam. In 2013, RMIT opened a research and industry collaboration centre in Barcelona, Spain. With significant teaching partnerships in Asia and Europe, as well as research and industry partnerships on every continent, RMIT has a strong global presence. We continue to consider our greatest achievement the graduation of genuinely global citizens, ready to drive impact and differentiate ourselves through the way we use our teaching and research assets, and our networks, to contribute to the communities we serve. This new strategy focuses on using our knowledge, skills and capabilities to make a difference in the world – that's why we called it Knowledge with Action. It is a clear, direct statement of intent – to convey our positive ambition and the way it applies equally to the many different, and distinctly important, threads of RMIT.
